PALMER NOW ACCUSES POST OF AIDING CRIMINALS

BOB WOLFE IS QUIZZED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

Broke With Senator Harding Because of "Inside Coterie" He Could Not Support He Says.

Expended $12,000 of His Own Money in Fighting Harding

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 1.—Robert F. Wolfe, publisher of the Ohio State Journal and Columbus Dispatch, appearing before the Senate committee investigating today that his papers had taken an active part in the recent Ohio republican presidential primary contest between Major General Wood and Senator Harding.

"Politics in our state," said Mr. Wolfe, "are in the hands of an inside coterie of men whom I have felt it a duty not to uphold. I wanted to support Senator Harding but told him that I could not do so if his candidacy went into the hands of this group. Our fight afterward was against an element in the republican party rather than for any individual."

He refused to enter into personalities when Senator Pomeroy asked for names of men constituting the coterie.

"Your activities were rather against Senator Harding's manager than for General Wood?" asked Senator Pomeroy.

"It was against the crowd managing Senator Harding's candidacy," Mr. Wolfe replied.

Senator Reed asked what evidence of expenditures the witness had seen and Mr. Wolfe produced a full newspaper sheet of advertising.

"This was carried as an insert in about 40 Ohio newspapers," he said, "containing a personal attack on me for not supporting Senator Harding. My estimate is that each side in Ohio, Wood and Harding, made a fight that cost about $100,000."

Mr. Wolfe said he had spent $12,000 of his own money. "I told Senator Harding that if he allowed Harry Daugherty to pick the delegates to the national convention I felt it would be a menace to the state and that I would fight it."

Assistant Labor Secretary Louis S. Post Comes Under Hot Fire From Attorney General

Formally Accuses Post of "Outrageous and Unconscionable Falsehoods."

Cancelled Hundreds of Legal Warrants Against Criminal Radicals is Charge.

Thwarted Government's Attempt To Rid Nation of Dangerous Radicals.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 1.—Charging that Louis S. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor, had a "perverted sympathy" for the criminal anarchists, Attorney General Palmer told a House committee today that in dealing with attempts of the government to rid the country of dangerous aliens, Mr. Post had employed a "self-willed and autocratic substitution of his own mistaken personal viewpoint for the obligations of the public law."

Mr. Palmer was testifying before the Rules Committee, which is investigating the official conduct of Mr. Post in deportation proceedings.

"It has become perfectly apparent," the Attorney General said, "that Mr. Post's course in all the deportation proceedings has been dictated by his own personal views."

"He has defied the rules of evidence as laid down by our most responsible courts, has cancelled hundreds of legal warrants issued by his department entirely without justification and in face of the facts, and has flouted the judgment of a committee of the Senate which has investigated one of the cases before him."

"He has shown constant favor to violators of the law and their attorneys, refusing even common courtesy to the Department of Justice, which is charged with the duty of enforcing the laws."

Mr. Palmer said he hoped "it might never be necessary to indulge in any criticism of any government official," but the "outrageous and unconscionable falsehoods" laid before the committee by Mr. Post required definite answers.

DECIDING CONTESTS FOR SEATS AT CHICAGO

Friday Night of Next Week Picked as Time When Nominee Will be Decided Upon.

Committee is Hearing Contests And Delegates Begin To Reach Chicago.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 1.—Hearings on the claims of contending delegations to next week's convention continued today to occupy the attention of the Republican National Committee.

A decision in the three cornered fight in Florida was first on the program, and next came the three cornered contest from the District of Columbia. None of these contesting delegations is pledged.

While the National Committee is grinding away at the contest, things are beginning to stir about the headquarters of the presidential candidates and their managers. Chicago hotels are beginning to show the first symptoms of campaign week.

Only two of the candidates, Governor Lowden and Major General Wood, are in the city, but Senator Harding and Senator Johnson will arrive later in the week.

Estimates of the probable duration of the convention are as numerous as the candidates. The prediction that a presidential candidate probably will be nominated Friday night and a vice presidential candidate on Saturday seems to be regarded among most of the politicians as probably being more accurate than any other.

All politicians seem agreed that no one is going to be nominated on the first ballot.

200 Guards Hurried to Scene And Bloody Riot is Averted

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 1.—Rioting between sailors from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and negroes at Waukegan which for a time threatened to assume serious proportions, was brought under control today after 200 additional guards were hurried to Waukegan in motor trucks. A number of shots were fired.

The trouble began, according to the police, when negro boys stoned automobiles and hit the windshield of a naval officer's motor car, showering his wife with glass. The sailors charged a negro hotel, drove out the guests and damaged the building. Five sailors were arrested.

CHEVROLET WINNER IN BIG RACES

De Palma, Favorite and Easy Leader Throughout Most of Race, Eliminated When Car Bursts Into Flames Near Goal.

Thomas Finishes Second And Milton Third. Boyer and Mechanician Escape Serious Injury When Car Overturns and Crashes into Wall.

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, May 31.—In the most spectacular finish ever witnessed on the Indianapolis speedway, Gaston Chevrolet, driving a car of American design, rode to victory in the eighth renewal of the 500-mile auto race today. Chevrolet's time was 5:40:16.14, an average of 88.66 miles an hour, the second best time in the history of the event.

In addition to winning the $20,000 first prize, Chevrolet also won approximately $5,500 more in lap prize competition and cash prizes offered by accessory firms.

Rene Thomas thundered across the finish in second place, having covered the distance in 5:43:02.29. His average was 87.45 miles an hour.

Tommy Milton pulled up in third place and Jimmy Murphy finished fourth.

All the thrills came in the last 30 miles of the race, when Ralph De Palma, the favorite, with a lead of ten miles to his credit, seemed certain of winning.

With victory within grasp, De Palma's car burst into flames on the north turn of the two and a half mile course, and a few minutes later the car driven by Joe Boyer, who led during the first 250 miles, skidded, overturned and crashed into a brick retaining wall within a few feet of the spot where De Palma's car caught fire. Neither Boyer nor his mechanic were seriously injured.

WHY THE COOPER WILL GIVE LONGER SERVICE

Every battery case turned out by the Cooper factory is made from oak lumber, seasoned by nature for two years. They will not crack and are not easily affected by the mud and water thrown from the road to which batteries are exposed when hung under the car.

As the case of the battery is where the strain and vibration is received and kept from the vital inner parts, this feature is well worth your careful consideration when buying a new battery. The case, regardless of what you may think or may have been told, is a very important factor in the life of a battery. The Cooper engineers recognized this, and use natural seasoned oak EXCLUSIVELY.
That's one of the reasons why they are willing to say that you must get longest service from a Cooper.

FLAG DEDICATED TO COUNTRY'S DEFENDERS

Memorial exercises were held at Grace Church Sunday School last Sunday morning. At the men's bible class Mrs. F. G. Carpenter paid tribute to the memory of our heroic dead in a group of most effectively given readings. Among the selections was a beautiful poem "At Rest" written by her son, Mr. Fred G. Carpenter, eulogizing the boys who lie buried on foreign soil.

At the close of the regular exercises a beautiful silk flag, purchased by the Sunday School was dedicated to the memory of our country's defenders.
The primary department took part in the ceremony, four attractive young girls acting as color bearers for them:
Misses Worthington, Sunkel, Price and Taylor. Mrs. Carpenter had charge of the presentation, and Supt.
Mark and Miss Edith Gardiner ably responded.

Appropriate music was furnished and Hon. Frank C. Parrett added an eloquent tribute to the American Soldier.

the face and received a broken nose;
the daughter received a large flesh wound on the head. Medical attention was rendered by Drs. Woodman-see and Hodson who happened to be passing.

The Gamble family was taken to

SERMON GIVEN
SUNDAY EVENINGThe annual baccalaureate sermon for the Washington high school class was delivered at the high school auditorium Sunday evening by Rev. Karl B. Alexander, of Grace M. E. Church.Long before the appointed time for the senior procession every seat in the auditorium had been taken and chairs were placed at convenient places to care for the crowd which overflowed into the hallway.Decorations consisted of bunches weigelia in full bloom banked across the front of the platform.At a few minutes after eight o'clock the first strains of the senior procesional hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal" were heard and led by Superintendent William McClain and Principal O. K. Probasco, the seniors, dignified by cap and gown, moved impres-sively down the left side to places reserved, while the high school glee club, led by Miss Louise Habegger, flowed down the right side and onto the stage.Never before in the history of the school has the baccalaureate sermon been featured by a part of the class appearing in over-seas uniforms, the same outfits in which they served in France. Corporal Arthur Rothrock,
Privates Walter Weaver and Ernest Conner, and private in the Marine Corps Fred Swartz, each wearing a gold stripe, appeared in the uniform instead of the conventional cap and town.Following the invocation by Rev.
C. R. Ferguson and the scripture reading by Rev. J. G. Laughlin, of Bloomington, the anthem "Lovely Appear" and two other hymns were given under the direction of Miss Habegger, Miss Marion Wheelpley at the piano.Rev. Alexander struck a new note in his address which was full of lasting impressions and thoughts for the radiating class. He took for his theme "Will Thou Show Me the Path of Light" from the 16th psalm, 11th verse.He spoke of the outside forces with which the class would be met on their entry into the new world, but brought out a new feature of the situation when he said that they were there to test and try, and not to undermine. He applied glimpses of history to the thought and made the statement that no nation has ever gone down because of an outside enemy.Rev. Alexander advised the seniors to go to work immediately upon their graduation and do something with all their hearts and all their souls. "The next few months in your life," he declared, "are the most important in your life."The seniors were urged to take up he higher education and to aim for the greater things of life. They were warned to sidestep the tempting offers of wage with which they would be met and to set their minds on the highest attainments.In closing Rev. Alexander implored the class to not forget the great partner in life and take God into partnership. "If you do there will be no regret when you look back fifty years from this time" he asserted.RUSS GIVEN

The Political Conventions

This year is certain to mark an epoch in the history of the nation. Party lines are to be reformed, party leadership established at both Chicago and San Francisco, to meet the changed conditions and to deal with the vital problems of the time.

Old political leaders are to battle with younger giants just entering the arena of American politics. The new and younger men representing the new demands will enter the struggle, confident of success. The older and more experienced politicians will struggle to maintain party power. New leaders will arise, old leaders will be retired.

History is in the making and all turn with hope and confidence to the great gatherings—one by the shores of Lake Michigan and the other by the Golden Gate.

The Washington Herald

has augmented its regular news and picture service so as to give every happening of interest to its readers.

Price Conditions

While prices which registered a sharp decline during the past ten days, have not rebounded to the former level yet the decending scale has shown a marked slowing up and many of the staple commodities which held firm when the market "broke" are still strong.

The present conditions indicate either that the price reductions largely related to "seasonal" clearances or that the financiers are intending to bring about a reduction so gradually that there will be no danger of panic.

Retail merchants everywhere, speaking generally, seem to have gone to the full limit in price reductions permitted by sound business. Many of them in fact allowed themselves to be carried too far in the enthusiasm of the time and included in their reductions some staple merchandise which they now find themselves unable to purchase in the wholesale market at a price as low as the disposed of it at retail.

Never have the retail merchants faced market conditions so uncertain as they are facing at the present time. There are few indeed among the retail merchants who are not waiting to welcome reduced prices in the wholesale and jobbers market. They are anxious to clear out present stocks at less than they paid for them and will do so just as soon as there is opportunity to buy at reduced rates in the wholesale markets or reason to believe that a price drop is imminent.

There is evidence though that business is struggling to regain its real equilibrium and on every hand there is evidence, seemingly justified, that prices will come back to a more solid footing before long. Those who are expecting a precipitate drop in prices are deceiving themselves and again it is well to remind ourselves to be patient and to so order our personal affairs that we assist the bankers.

May's Last Days

The last ten days or two weeks of May have been ideal for rushing the belated work on the farms.

The work of preparing the ground and planting the corn has gone forward rapidly during almost every daylight hour and the farmers have saved daylight by using every minute of it between sunup and sundown. Early and late and all day long during the splendid days which have marked the passing of May, the farmers have toiled, diligently, intelligently and tirelessly, with every available assistance they could muster for the task of raising the food for the world.

Concerned about the shortage of labor we were all, we who appreciate the farmers' problems, as well as the farmers themselves, overly anxious about the backward spring.

The weather came along—a little late perhaps—but in time, probably, to permit the ripening of the crops before the autumn frosts came. Once again nature has demonstrated her dependability and once again only complaining man is at fault.

Had men done their part a much larger acreage under cultivation would now be waiting to greet the warm June sun.

Serving Its Purpose

Of course we, none of us, expect any definite action, remedial or otherwise, from the Senate, a committee of which has been investigating campaign expenditures of aspirants for the presidential nomination.

At the same time that investigation, which bears evidence of having been inaugurated as an aid to the political aspirations of certain individuals, promises in its startling disclosures to array public sentiment against a very censurable custom. The sums shown to have been spent by some of the candidates is startling. The disclosures are proof of just how far we have drifted from the old safeguard of the office seeking the man instead of the reverse.

The politicians have the wrong idea, they have their anchor in the wrong place. We may not be able to get away all at once, we may not be able to break the political bonds this year (although it looks as though we would in one party at least) but the needed reform has taken root in a definite public demand.

POETRY FOR TODAY

A DEFINITION

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch—
That's pep!
The courage to act on a sudden hunch
That's pep!
The nerve to tackle the hardest thing,
With feet that climb and hands that cling,
And a heart that never forgets to sing—
That's pep!

Sand and grit in a concrete base—
That's pep!
Friendly smile on an honest face—
That's pep!
The spirit that helps when another's down,
That knows how to scatter the blackest frown,
That loves its neighbors, and loves its town—
That's pep!

To say, "I will"—for you know you can—
That's pep!
To look for the best in every man—
That's pep!
To meet each thundering knockout
And come back with a laugh, because you know
You'll get the best of the whole darned show—
That's pep!

DELEGATES WAIT FOR DECISION OF SENATOR PENROSE

Senator Ill And Has Not Made Final Decision.

His Sickbed in Philadelphia Mecca For Lesser Lights Of Old Guard.

By Mark Sullivan
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, June 1.—If you can detach yourself a moment from statistics of delegations and all the other convention details that press increasingly upon you and look for a brief pause at what is picturesque and human in the picture, your imagination is sure to rest on Penrose.

He sits in his old-fashioned house in the old-fashioned residence district of Philadelphia, a sick old bachelor descendant of all that is implied by an old Philadelphia family. The room where visitors wait their turn, and the one where Penrose's sprawling bulk rests in a chair that suggests a throne, but is really only a special adaptation to his illness—both have the jostling incongruities of a home where past generations of feminine taste have been a little submerged by bachelor disorder, hunting trophies from the Rockies crowding old mahogany into the corners.

To this home the politicians. They talk, they listen and they leave. At the steps, reporters waylay them. At the hotel, the telephone girl tells them. "Indianapolis is on the long-distance." Some other politician of lesser degree not favored with an invitation wants to find out what the "big fellow" said—and they discuss the very shading of his words in the hope of getting a hint to guide them in their own decisions.

It is no rhetorical exaggeration, but literal fact, that men have traveled hundreds of miles to talk with a man who talked with Penrose. Men speak of another man who has been to Spruce Street with something of the reverent awe that exalts a pilgrim who has been to Mecca.

Mostly of the Old Guard

To a degree, this is sentimental. Some men go to see the sick Penrose and pay him a generous deference who always stood up against Penrose in his prime. But for the most part the visitors are of the "Old Guard" fellow leaders who shared the high command with Penrose at previous conventions, and minor staff officers from smaller states now looking for instructions, or at least for inspiration. Penrose—even Penrose sick—is by far the biggest figure the Old Guard has left in the way of leadership.

That same spirit of the times which has been such a blighting and untimely frost to Kaisers, Czars and Kings, had been an equally hard winter on American political bosses.

Time was when, if called on by the necessities of public curiosity to procure information about what the Old Guard was going to do in a convention, you could go only to three or four men and find out.

In New York you could go to Platt or O'Dell or Barnes, or even that weakest last of the dynasty Whitman, and you could get something to dig your teeth into; could assure yourself where that solid eighty-eight delegates from New York would stand when the last ditch came.

But now New York has no such leader left. New York politically is no longer an empire—it is seven grand duchies, seven little Ukraines and Esthonias, presided over by seven little local leaders whose security of tenure has been sadly shaken as authority everywhere has been in the general disruption of accepted things. Penrose Only Source.

Efforts have been made to remedy this condition in New York by getting the leaders together, but the insecurity of their authority has made them so lacking in self confidence and so jealous of each other that they won't come together; they can't be brought into the same room—each fears he might leave the room with his political pockets emptier than when he entered it.

And so Penrose—even Penrose flat on his back—is about the only source the Old Guard has left for authoritative direction and the inspiration of confident leadership. And even from Penrose the troubled leaders don't get anything very definite.

So far as your correspondent knows—and nothing said in this article has any better authority than second-hand—Penrose hasn't made up his mind. A long time ago Penrose was for Senator Watson, of Indiana. That was when he was well—rather too well and too confident. When it became apparent that Watson wouldn't do,

THE ORIGINAL WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

Penrose gave a half-hearted assent to Harding. That was, however, an emergency choice to bridge things over, and didn't really mean much. It was in the early months of the campaign, about the time that Wood was making a degree of progress that alarmed the Old Guard leaders. They used to hurry to Penrose to impress upon him the need of getting together and agreeing on some one.

Penrose probably guessed at the time that Harding would not last; certainly he knows it now. As between the two leaders in the race, Wood and Lowden, Penrose is apparently rather firmly opposed to the former, and not much warmed up over the latter. He would undoubtedly be pleased to see a real opening to name Knox.

Knows Johnson's Value

He is by no means as hostile to Johnson as outsiders might assume. Penrose is a politician and he knows that Johnson on the ticket would be a vote getter, would carry in with him Republican Congressmen from doubtful districts. If Johnson would accept the Vice Presidency, Penrose would probably give it to him, and thereby solve a lot of the problems that are thrust upon him by his worried lieutenants. However, that is not likely to happen.

The truth is, Penrose has not yet made up his program. That is the net of all the messages the pilgrims get from him. It isn't very satisfactory. From the pilgrim's point of view the time is short, and the necessity for a programme is most pressing.

That is what makes the romantic interest which the campaign has already given Penrose now take on the conventional dramatic suspense of the beginning of the fourth act. Will Penrose come to Chicago or will he not? Certainly he is too sick to go on the convention floor. That burly figure which always moved about among the delegates like one of the grimmer peaks of the Rocky Mountains, will not be there to provide the shadow of a great rock when the Johnson and Borah hurricanes are blowing.

It is gravely doubtful if Penrose will even be in Chicago. He has been a seriously sick man and is far from recovery.

The affair proved to be a delightful reunion, bringing together all of Mr. Jester's children, with the exception of Mrs. Foreman, of Dayton.

Glorious moonlight, all the beauty and outing attractiveness of "Cedar Hurst," and a party of thirty young women in gay holiday spirits, combined to make the Y. W. C. A. roast of Saturday night an affair both merry and delightful.

It was owing to the courtesy of Mrs. Ed Fite, chairman of the Recreational Department of the Y. W. C. A., that the hospitality of Cedar Hurst was extended and the guests felt deeply grateful to her and the members of the committee for all the pains taken to make the affair enjoyed. The kindness of motorists in driving the party out was also much appreciated.

A few went out in the afternoon and enjoyed the woods and spring flowers until joined by the others for the "Camp Supper," cooked on the creek bank.

FRENCH CHILDREN HONOR U. S. DEAD

Paris, May 31.—Probably the most moving scene in all France during the memorial exercises beside the graves of the American soldiers was the singing by a children's chorus. They marched from one burying ground to another, carrying garlands of flowers and chanting their songs as they stopped before the graves, while onlookers were much moved and many women wept.

The sisters and mothers with dead of their own to mourn, placed wild flowers or grass wreaths on the mounds beneath which lay the American heroes.

TENDER TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF SOLDIER DEAD

Graves of Ex-Soldiers Are Strewn With Wreaths of Flowers Amid Solemn Ceremonies.

Services at Memorial Arch, For Dead in Recent War, Concluded Day's Ceremonies.

One of the largest crowds attending Memorial Day ceremonies in this city in recent years assembled Tuesday afternoon to pay reverent tribute to the noble defenders of the Stars and Stripes who are now sleeping in peace beneath the greensward.

Commander I. N. Rowe presided over the solemn ceremonies at Memorial Hall, where the hall was packed for the services. The opening prayer was rendered by J. W. Rothrock, and music for the program was furnished by an octette from the Christian Church, composed of Mrs. Orland Toops, Miss Mabel Jones, Miss Jane Williams, Miss Mary Minshall, and Messrs. Clifford Irvin, Geo. Miller, Charles Snyder and Prof. J. A. Harbaugh. Their singing added much to the program carried out at the Hall.

Logan's General Order No. 1 was read by Attorney Ray Maddox, and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Judge Frank M. Allog.

Rev. K. B. Alexander, of the Grace M. E. Church delivered the main address of the day, paying touching tribute to the veterans of three wars, living and dead, and inspiring anew the patriotism which stirred the hearts of all who heard him.

Following the address of Rev. Alexander Comrade D. W. Blakemore spoke briefly.

The impressive march to the cemetery was then begun, with the Washington Band leading, followed in order by and Col. B. H. Millikan Camp, Sons of Veterans; the Spanish-American war veterans; Paul H. Hughey Post, American Legion and the flower trucks. Next came the veterans of the civil war, with automobiles carrying the veterans and Women's Relief Corps and Ladies Circle of the G. A. R. followed by a large number of citizens in automobiles.

At the cemetery a wealth of flowers had been provided for the work of decorating, and this was in charge of the Sons of Veterans.

The solemn services at the Cenotaph were conducted by John M. Bell Post, assisted by the Women's Relief Corps.

Upon return to the city short ceremonies were held at the Memorial Arch, a large crowd assembling on the court house lawn for this part of the program. Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage delivered a short address in which he praised the noble men whose names appear on the tablets of Memorial Arch as Fayette's sacrifice in the world war.

After the address Rev. John Nier pronounced benediction, bringing the ceremonies to a close. Many beautiful wreaths had been placed about the arch by friends of the brave men in whose memory the arch was erected.

The Ladies Circle of the G. A. R., at ten o'clock Monday morning held services at cemetery, placing flowers upon the cenotaph. These services were in charge of Mrs. Mary Millikan.

PERSHING APPEALS TO AMERICAN PEOPLE TO FULFILL OBLIGATIONS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 31.—A plea that the American people be not swayed by personal ambition or political expediency from fulfilling obligations to less fortunate peoples who confidently look to use for help, marked the memorial Day address of General John J. Pershing, delivered in the amphitheater of Arlington national cemetery, where the formal exercises of the day centered.

RICH PROVINCE BANDIT-RIDDEN

(By Associated Press)

Shanghai—(By Mail)—Szechuen, most populous of China's provinces with extensive and varied resources and almost unlimited areas of soil of the greatest productivity, is bandit-ridden and is torn with the strife of five opposing governing factions that seemingly are beyond the control of the Canton government to which Szechuen is supposed to pay allegiance. This is the report brought to Shanghai by foreigners who have recently been traveling in the province.

The country along all the main highways, according to these reports, is overrun with bands of armed outlaws and it is only possible for the foreigners to travel these byways in any degree of safety by first buying protection and immunity from molestation from bandit leaders who control the various areas. When the traveler asked for an armed guard this is provided—for a consideration. This guard must be changed when the traveler enters the area controlled by another military official.

By following this procedure, travelers from the province say, the wayfarer is ordinarily safe, but it happens sometimes that the spheres of control of the leaders overlap and travelers who have bought protection in one area are at time attacked by bandits whose leaders have not been appeased.

HARD SLUGGING AND MANY ERRORS DEFEATS LOCALS

Washington Athletics Defeated in First of Two Game Series 7 to 10 in Ten Innings.

Visitors Peel the Epidermis Off the Ball When Their Batsmen Connect For Eighteen Hard Drives.

In the first of a two game series with the I. O. O. Team of Newport, Ky., Sunday afternoon loose playing on the part of the Washington Athletics caused the visitors to finish on the long end of a 10 to 7 score after ten innings of slugging had been indulged in by both outfits.

Morris was not in the best of shape and weakened towards the last to the extent that an array of base hits flocked the bases with men in every inning. The Sabina boy became ill in the last inning and DeAtley was sent in to run for him. However, Morris pitched a fairly good game and would have won under ordinary circumstances.

Features of the game were the slugging of Ertle, on the hill for the lodge men, and the batting and fielding of Brown, Newport's first baseman. Harley Adams, for the locals, shone with a brilliantly at the bat. The long schoolmaster of Sabina poked one out to deep center in the third frame that found him on third when the ball was relayed in.

At all time in the game the verdict was the most suspicious factor and the fans were not sure of the winner until the last man were out. The Athletics filled the bases with no one out in the tenth but were only able to bring one man across the rubber.

Wee Willie Comes Back

A chorus of applause greeted the appearance of "Wee Willie" Prout. The oldtimes in the stands recognized the right fielder as the same "Wee Willie" who played on the old Melvin team during the season around 1909. The veteran is a bit slowed up but still shows signs of the flashy act that made him one of the well known ball players of the state.

Newport Takes the Second

For the second time in as many days the Washington Athletics were defeated by the I. O. O. F. baseball team of Newport, Ky., before a large crowd at Sunnyside Park Monday afternoon by a score of 4 to 8.

Mark, who started the game for the locals, was taken out in the second after he had exhibited a streak of wildness, and Chenoweth, his successor pitched fairly good ball but was given support of a very thin order.

Neim Meyer, a left-hander, gave a pretty piece of hurling and was never in extreme danger except in the sixth when Nip Jones hit a terrific three bagger to the center field fence. Corwin followed with a similar swat. Jones also had a big day in the field and romped around his garden in fancy style.

After the fourth inning the game was a real battle with Chenoweth allowing but one run while the Athletics seemed to get together and showed some old time form.

GERMANS FAIL TO STAMP TURKS WITH CULTURE

(By Associated Press)

Constantinople — (By Mail) — The Germans have failed in their effort to stamp their culture upon the Turk and, instead, the English language is beginning to rank next to French in the commercial life of the Levant.

In the war period German language schools were opened throughout Constantinople in which German officers were required to teach and German papers were circulated by all possible means. But the results were almost nil. Most of the schools were free and failed to attract better classes, and French was too strongly entrenched as the language of trade and social intercourse to be displaced.

Since the armistice, Italians have been working industriously to popularize their language and literature. Italian officers are now teaching in schools as the Germans did. But their schools are well attended only in the poorer parts of the city.

Turkish is but little use in important commercial transactions in Constantinople as nearly all business men of what ever nationality speak French. The English who have been in business in Turkey for years generally transact their business in French.

Since the war, however, there has been a great influx of American traders who know only English and the steady stream of American ships coming to Constantinople with English-speaking crews, as well as American Red Cross workers and American and English relief workers of various sorts has created a greater demand for the English language. For years English have maintained a boys' high school and girls' high school in Constantinople. Robert College and the Constantinople College for Women, both American institutions have done much to advance English as a medium for higher education. And now the Young Men's Christian Association and Young Woman's Christian Association are offering a variety of day and night classes for persons desiring to acquire English.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 S. 6th St., Carrollton, Ky.

COUNTY-WIDE OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Few times during the past few years has there been such interest in county-wide observance of Memorial Day as that shown this year. In all the municipalities of Fayette county, every village made a clear observance of the day and programs were given wherever citizens congregated to pay tribute to the nation's dead.

Marked by the double meaning of the day activities in each municipality were featured by both the veterans of the Civil War and those of the World War, together with the Spanish War veterans, taking an equal part in the memorial services.

Bloomington

Memorial services of a solemn nature were held in Bloomington Monday afternoon with the program of the day in the M. E. Church, while short services were also held at the Bloomington cemetery where the graves of 125 defenders of the Union were decorated.

Rev. J. G. Laughlin delivered the address for the occasion. The line of march to the cemetery was led by the Bloomington band with the Uniform Rank of the Bloomington Knights of Pythias forming the escort.

Jeffersonville

One of the largest crowds in the history of Decoration Day attended the services at Jeffersonville Saturday afternoon the G. A. R., World War and the J. O. U. A. M. making it a large affair. Graves of veterans at Fairview cemetery were decorated in the morning and the graves in the old Jeffersonville cemetery were decorated in the afternoon. Rev. R. F. McKinnon delivered the memorial address in the afternoon in Jefferson Hall.

The committee on decoration and arrangements was composed of Miss Helen Fultz, Messrs. C. D. Bush and Joe Armstrong.

Milledgeville

Milledgeville held services in harmony with the spirit of the day in the M. P. Church, with Rev. K. B. Alexander of this city delivering the memorial address. Graves were decorated and a short program, consisting of the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech and music by the band, was held at the cemetery.

Good Hope

Good Hope held well attended memorial day exercises Sunday afternoon with Hon. C. A. Reid of this city, delivering the address in Wayne Hall. L. O. Fountain read Lincoln's Gettysburg speech and there was special music. Graves of veterans were decorated in the Good Hope cemetery with both the G. A. R. and the World War veterans taking part.

Bookwalter

Hon. Frank C. Parrott of this city delivered the address on the occasion of memorial services at Bookwalter Monday afternoon in the Christian Church. Graves of veterans were decorated with an abundance of flowers.

New Holland

Memorial day was quietly observed Monday at New Holland with the decoration of graves of veterans with a profusion of flowers donated for the purpose. All business was suspended during the afternoon.

Ideal for Bathrooms

SPLASH to your heart's content, without fear of ruining your floor, if it is covered with Sanolin. It's waterproof, will not rot, easily cleaned, thoroughly sanitary and a great labor-saver.

Sanolin always lies flat on the floor, will not "hump up", crawl nor curl at the edges. It's easy to lay—no fastenings of any kind required. Neither cold or heat affects it; will not crack. It is far the best inexpensive floor-covering on the market. Enough Sanolin to cover even the largest bathroom floor costs very little.

Because of Sanolin's extraordinary flexibility and greater wearing surface it is exceptionally durable. In fact, it will outwear any printed linoleum.

Sanolin is made in many charming patterns for bathrooms, kitchens, living rooms, dining rooms, halls and bedrooms.

Sold with a guarantee of satisfaction.

HE LIKES THEM

And Now He Breakfasts on "Edgemont" Crackers and Butter

He likes them because these twice baked crackers are so crunchy and flavorful; says they are better than toast.

He really prefers "Edgemont" Crackers with butter to bread or toast.

At Noon

He finds that "Edgemont" Crackers and butter, or "Edgemont" Crackers and milk send him back to his work with vim and vigor and a clear head for the afternoon's work.

And in the Evening

"Edgemont" Crackers and butter are preferred. And the reason, I believe, is that "Edgemont" Crackers are bread in its purest, most likable, most nourishing form.

Now let me tell you why I serve "Edgemont" Crackers three times a day. A friend suggested that I put a plate of crackers and a plate of bread on the table every meal, say nothing to my family but watch them.

I did, and would you believe it, every one ate the "Edgemont" Crackers and butter, simply because they liked these crunchy little crackers and butter better than the bread. Then too, it makes such a pleasing change.

Try it with your family. They, I know, will prefer "Edgemont" Crackers and butter just as my family does. Then they are as economical as they are good. You get one hundred "Edgemont" Crackers to the pound.

And the cookies and cakes that the "Edgemont" bakers make—well, they are simply delicious. You can get any kind you want, from spicy gingerbread to dainty marshmallow and chocolate confections—a different kind for every day in the month. Your neighborhood grocer can supply you. Just ask him for the kind you like, but be sure they are the "Edgemont" kind. He can get your kind on short notice.

You Can Get Them as You Like

The Older Day, My Doctor Said

"Of course 'Edgemont' Crackers are easily digestible. They are made of practically the same materials as bread—such as flour milled from energy-giving, body-building wheat (one of Nature's greatest and most complete foods), yeast and shortening (that has been carefully selected and tested). But, best of all, these materials are baked thoroughly and then toasted—twice baked, if you please. That accounts for their easy digestibility, their sweet wheat taste."

"Yes, it is easy to understand why 'Edgemont' Crackers and butter are preferred. They are good to the taste and good to the digestive organs."

DO YOU WONDER THEN,

why we at the "Edgemont" bakers take so much pains to make "Edgemont" products as good as they should be made—selected materials, mixed with extreme care, delivered fresh and wholesome—for your health and the health and safety of your family.

BIG WELDING JOB REPAIRS ROAD ROLLER

The big cast iron frame over the front portion of the county road roller was broken last Friday while the roller was being used in repaving the Buena Vista and Greenfield pike.

The big casting weighs about 1000 pounds. To replace with a new casting it would have caused indefinite delay in the road work. Efforts were made to repair the broken part by welding and Wilbur Morgan finally undertook the job, the biggest welding undertaking ever attempted in the county.

The big task was accomplished successfully and work resumed on Tuesday morning with a minimum of time lost and at an expense much smaller than the purchase of a new piece would have amounted to.

How Much Power at the Wheels?

MOTOR power is not car power. Much motor power is lost in its delivery to the rear wheels.

But this loss can be reduced to a minimum by correct lubrication of the "power line"—the transmission gears, universal joints, differential and rear axle bearings.

And correct lubrication of these parts means the use of a lubricant which will prevent wear without offering resistance to power.

Polarine Transmission Lubricants are supplied in three grades, one of which will correctly lubricate the transmission units in your car.

Polarine Transmission Lubricant "A"
A heavy fluid oil—the correct lubricant for transmission and differential gears and bearings, where case construction is tight.

Polarine Transmission Lubricant "B"
A semi-fluid grease for transmission and differential lubrication where construction is such that leakage would occur with a fluid oil.

Polarine Transmission Lubricant "BB"
A semi-solid grease for transmission and differential lubrication where gears and bearings are badly worn and case is not tight.

Buy Polarine Oil, Polarine Transmission Lubricants, Polarine Cup Grease and Red Crown Gasoline at the Red Crown Sign—Service Stations and Garages.
